Anticipation Climbs as K9 Super Wall™ set to make American Debut at The GoPro Mountain Games

K9 Super Wall™ brings you High-climbing Fun, Excitement, and Energy, matching and maybe even surpassing the canine sports of today, and we are pleased to announce it is set to make its North American debut at the GoPro Mountain Games in Vail, Colorado, this weekend June 6th through June 9th, 2019.

Traditionally the sport takes place whenever Aussies get together with their working sheep dogs to see whose dog can achieve the highest jump up a stack of hay bales.

K9 Super Wall is being unveiled to the rest of the world this weekend as a part of the Iconic GoPro Mountain Games annual event. Lionshead Village will play host with Australia's very own "Farmer Dave" and teams who have come to compete from all over the World including two teams from Australia, 4 from the USA and 2 from Canada.

Grant Reeves, President of DockDogs Worldwide and Dueling Dogs Canine Aquatic Sports Programs, and Co- founder of the K9 Super Wall Entertainment Company, says "This is truly an incredible sport born in the outback of Australia that I wanted to bring to the Arenas, Venues, TV's, and Live Streaming feeds around the world. It has everything... the hero dog stories, canine athleticism... the beauty of the human and animal bond, and just sheer excitement for an audience to participate in". Reeves continued to explain, "K9 Super Wall is both a new sport for the world to watch with high energy and excitement, but is also one more sport being expanded for canine owners and their pets or working dogs to get involved with. The more of the active sports programs we can create and produce for pets and pet owners, the healthier and more active we all can be with our pet kids. K9 Super Wall is one more perfect fit to this ongoing objective."

Any dog can enter the competition, with trials or rounds of competition daily at the below tentative schedule this weekend at the GoPro Mountain Games, with different Classes for little dogs called 'Joeys', 'Open Class' and 'Codgers' for dogs over 8 years of age. Essentially all the dog needs to do is jump up and over an ever increasing in height on the wall.
